

GS/PHIL 6355 3.0A Major Problems in Philosophy of Mind
2017
Thursday 11:30-2:30
Professor Kristin Andrews

In this seminar, we will be examining the issues and challenges related to Moral Psychology.

Texts include:

Valerie Tiberius: Moral Psychology: A Contemporary Introduction

Daniel Goleman and Richard Davidson: Altered Traits: Science Reveals How Meditation Changes your Mind, Brain, and Body

We will also be reading chapters from The Moral Psychology Handbook, Doris et al. eds. and selected articles.

Students will be required to present an article and create a handout for the seminar participants, to turn in a draft of a final paper, to offer comments to another student on their paper, and to revise their draft paper in light of comments received during the class conference at the end of term.
